ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Writing a thesis is certainly difficult because it requires a special skill of writing, sufficient knowledge to discuss a certain topic, and critical thinking in conducting the research. Further, there should be a deeper understanding of research procedures so that the results of the research can be well taken.

Realizing this challenge, the writer decided to accept such an academic task with the hope that she can complete the assignment in due time. She was quite convinced that she would be able to accomplish it by the help of her professional lecturers whose names are not mentioned here and thesis consultants.

Her determination has been paid off. She has received a lot of assistance from her two consultants who have constantly checked the progress in the assignment. Despite unpredictable situations, she eventually managed to write this thesis. Without the assistance of her consultants this thesis might not have been completed as it is.

On this particular occasion, the writer would like to thank her thesis consultants, first, Prof. Amrin Saragih, Ph.D who has given his valuable time to check the content of this thesis so that it is worthy of scientific discussion, and guided her to finish it in due time, and next Prof. Bahren Umar Siregar, Ph.D who has never failed to give her all information regarding the completion of this thesis. The two consultants deserve her highest gratitude and appreciation for their constant encouragement and academic support that made the writer feel confident in solving all kinds of problems.

Next, she is obliged to thank Prof. Dr. J. Naibaho, Director of the Post-Graduate Program, who has always encouraged her to finish the assignment no matter how hard it was to begin something that is almost beyond her academic achievement. His advice has led to a fruitful undertaking. The Secretary to the Department, Dra. Meisuri, M.A., should also deserve her gratitude for her academic support in dealing with administrative matters.

Further, she would like to thank her beloved husband Rabungan Ignatius Sinaga for his endless love and care to motivate her to study seriously to earn the academic degree of Master in Humanities. His moral, psychological, and financial support has been very helpful indeed. Also, the writer's beloved father V. Simangunsong and the late mother A br Pakpahan deserve her gratitude for teaching her to accept life as a challenge and never give up before trying the best in life.

Finally, she wishes to thank Bradley, the American native speaker who has provided her with much information through the practice of English on many occasions. The familiar typist Lamtio should receive her thanks. Her classmates Erika Sinambela, Syamsul Bahri Panggabean, Coki David Pasaribu, Rausnivanson, Yahmawati Simatupang, Lasma Yanti Siagian, Lili Andayanti and Nazar will always be in her heart and deserve her utmost and sincere appreciation for their friendly attitude and understanding in making her enjoy all the studies. Their advice has led her to realize the importance of friendship in reaching success.
