ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I would like to praise God Almighty for His abundant blessing in my life that has enable me to complete this thesis in order to fulfill one of the requirements in obtaining the degree of Magister Humaniora from the English Applied Linguistics Graduate Program from The State University of Medan, in Medan.

My deepest thanks is conveyed to my first consultant, Prof. M. Silitonga Ph D who has given me such priceless guidance. For without his help and generosity in sharing his knowledge, I wouldn't be able to complete my thesis.

To my second consultant, Prof. Baren Umar Siregar Ph D, I would also like to give my deepest thanks for his time and attention.

To the Board of Examiners, Prof. Dr. Jawasi Naibaho also as the Head of the English Applied Linguistics Graduate Program Department, Drs Amrin Saragih, DTEFL, MA, PhD and Prof Tina Mariany Arifin, M.A., PhD, I would like to convey my sincerest 'thank you' for their useful input for the improvement of this thesis.

I would like also to take this opportunity to give thanks to my lecturers and tutors of the third year LTBI regular class, who has shared their precious time and knowledge to us students.

My special thanks is directed to the subjects of the research who has given such full cooperation and understanding. My full appreciation also goes to Jojo's parents, Jona Sitepu and Ruth Felicia Angelika Pasaribu, and to Andrew's parents Donna Ria Pasaribu and Pardamean Hutabarat for giving me permission to use their sons as the subjects of this study. My love to Jojo and Andrew for always bringing 'joy' each day.

I will always be indebted to my late mother, Holy Tan Hoo Nio Panggabean, who had motivated me with her love and support all through her life. I dedicated this thesis in her memory.

My deepest appreciation will undoubtedly be given to my father, Amudi Pasaribu, who has helped me to understand the meaning of the word "to persevere". His love and helpful suggestions have always been tremendously appreciated.

To my husband, Sinar Muda Ritonga and my three wonderful children, Michael Partogi Haposan, Christa Adiratna and Theresia Retta Desiree, my love is bestowed to all of you for being so understanding during the last two and the half years. Without my husband's financial support, and his enduring encouragements I might not have finished my study. I was also deeply humbled at my family's acceptance of the messy home and hurriedly prepared meals during my study and in the process of writing my thesis. I am deeply blessed for their understanding.

Lastly but not least, my special thanks will be directed to my dear friends who has helped me in their own special ways. I will always be filled with gratitude to: Ratna Indrawati Lukita, Bobby Lie Jit Hoat and Ben M. Pasaribu. Also to my classmates at LTBI, my colleagues and friends from the University of HKBP Nommensen for whom I cant mention one by one.

Finally, I realized that this thesis is far from being perfect. Therefore, I will appreciate any suggestion or criticism for the improvement of this thesis.
