INTRODUCTION

1.1 The Background of the Study

Language is needs for every human being to communicate to other peoples. Language is the basis of all communication. Without language, no culture in the society will not develope because people will lack a means which they can express their ideas to one another. Language can not be separated from human life because it plays an important role in the process of social interaction. Think of language, there happens cooperation and interaction between people. Talk to our friends, families and associates by using a language as a medium of communication. All people in the society communicate and express their feeling by using a language. Sociolinguistics is not study about society but also the correlation between society and the language.

Nowadays, language shift potentially happen in vernaculars in Indonesia. Gunarwan (2004) found that Lampung language was shifted because of Indonesian language pressure. Siregar (1998) also found that language shift happens in the young generation bilingual society in Medan. The data show that the language shift happens in Indonesia continually.

Weinreich (1968) defines that language shift is often used to refer to change at a community level and the terms language loss or non acquisition of language are use in reference to an individual’s declining or use of a group’s original language with concurrent increase or dominant use of another more widely use language. If the language shift cannot use of another more widely use language. If the language shift can not be stop, the minority language will lose. Language is one of ethnic identity symbol. It means that Indonesia will lose one of its ethnic identities. In keeping the existence of ethnic identity needs language maintenance.

Pauwels (2005) states that language maintenance is generally applied to individuals or community of speakers continuing to use their language in a situation of language contact, where there is competition from one or more languages to be the sole language is important. It is supported by Holmes (2001) said that where the language is considered as an important symbol of minority group’s identity, it is likely to be maintained longer. Language maintenance refers to the situation where speech community continue to use its vernacular language. Based on theory, it’s mean that language that maintain by individuals and communities they retain the language value that language will be maintain for regeneration.

Tondo (2009) argued that, one of the factors of language shift is intermarriage, social interaction of interethnic in Indonesia especially marriage between different ethnic will cause the process of extinction of vernacular language. The couples of intermarriage family often difficult in maintaining their own vernacular language and they have to choose one of the language which will be use in their daily communication.
Indonesia is a multicultural country which a lots of varieties of ethnics and varieties of vernacular language spread all over Indonesia. The varieties of ethnics group also spread in Kota Langsa, Langsa is a developing city that locate in Aceh province, in Kota Langsa develop two kinds of social interactions there are interraction between the same ethnic or intra ethnic and interaction between different ethnic or interethnic. The interaction between interethnic groups in Kota Langsa is potentially occur marriage between different ethnic or call as intermarriage.

The inter-marriage family find it difficult to apply their local language because they have different language.

Many Hokkien Chinese can speak different languages in contact their lives because they are immigrants in Kota Langsa such as Aceh language, Java language, act. One of the effective ways to cover children’s indigenous language is thought family and parent habitual action because, parent have a dominat role to form the children language use in their environment. The use of vernacular at home is a good way for nucleus and extend family to keep using the vernacular language to help the maintenance of language.

There are lots of Hokkien Chinese migrants settle and intermarriage in Langsa City. Hokkien Chinese language use as the language of business. Islam is the majority religion in Langsa City, Christian is also a part of the population, Buddhism widely adopted by the community of Chinese. Langsa City is rich of cultural heritage and ethnic differences, however, people still live in peace and have a strong religious tolerance. Langsa City is near to the capital city of Medan, North Sumatera, Langsa City as a strategic city for immigrants.
