CHAPTER V
CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusion

Having analyzed the data, conclusions are drawn as the following:

(1) There are four cognitive functions of metaphors that can be found in Lukas 12:35-48, namely structural function, ontological function, orientational function and additional function. However, according to the grounded theory (Lakoff & Johnsen, 2003) and (Kövecses, 2010), they are classified into the Ontological, Structural and Orientational function of metaphors.

(2) The ways of using the cognitive function of metaphors in Lukas 12:35-48 are through correspondence structural concept of metaphors, give new ontological status to general categories of abstract target concept and organize the conceptual metaphor to spatial concept.

(3) The use of cognitive function in Lukas 12:35-48 is motivated by the similarity. The similarity of the cultural and history in both concepts.

5.2 Suggestions

With reference to the conclusions, suggestions are staged as the following:

(1) It is suggested that other researchers to find the new findings related to cognitive function of metaphors with the reference of Conceptual Metaphor Theory.
(2) It is suggested to Christian teachers, it is important to explain the concepts that the Bible used in their verses, so students can also understand the motivation and the background of the verses.

(3) For other researchers, it is suggested to conduct a study related to investigation of cognitive function of metaphors with reference of CMT in boarder unit of data.