

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusion

Based on result and discussion of this research, it can conclude some conclusion such as:

- 1) There is a significant positive influence between macromedia flash and problem solving ability.
- 2) There is a significant positive influence between clinometers and problem solving ability.
- 3) There is a significant positive influence between macromedia flash and clinometers towards problem solving ability.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on result and discussion of this research, it can conclude some suggestion such as:

1. The result of research show that there is a significant positive influence between macromedia flash and clinometers towards problem solving ability. We can observe another factor that make an improvement of student's problem solving ability.
2. As a teacher, he/she must be able to use variety of learning model, instructional media, or teaching aids in order to achieve learning objective.
3. As a researcher, he/she must be able to know others factor that can make an improvement of student's problem solving ability. The result of research can be consideration for them.
