

CHAPTER V CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusions

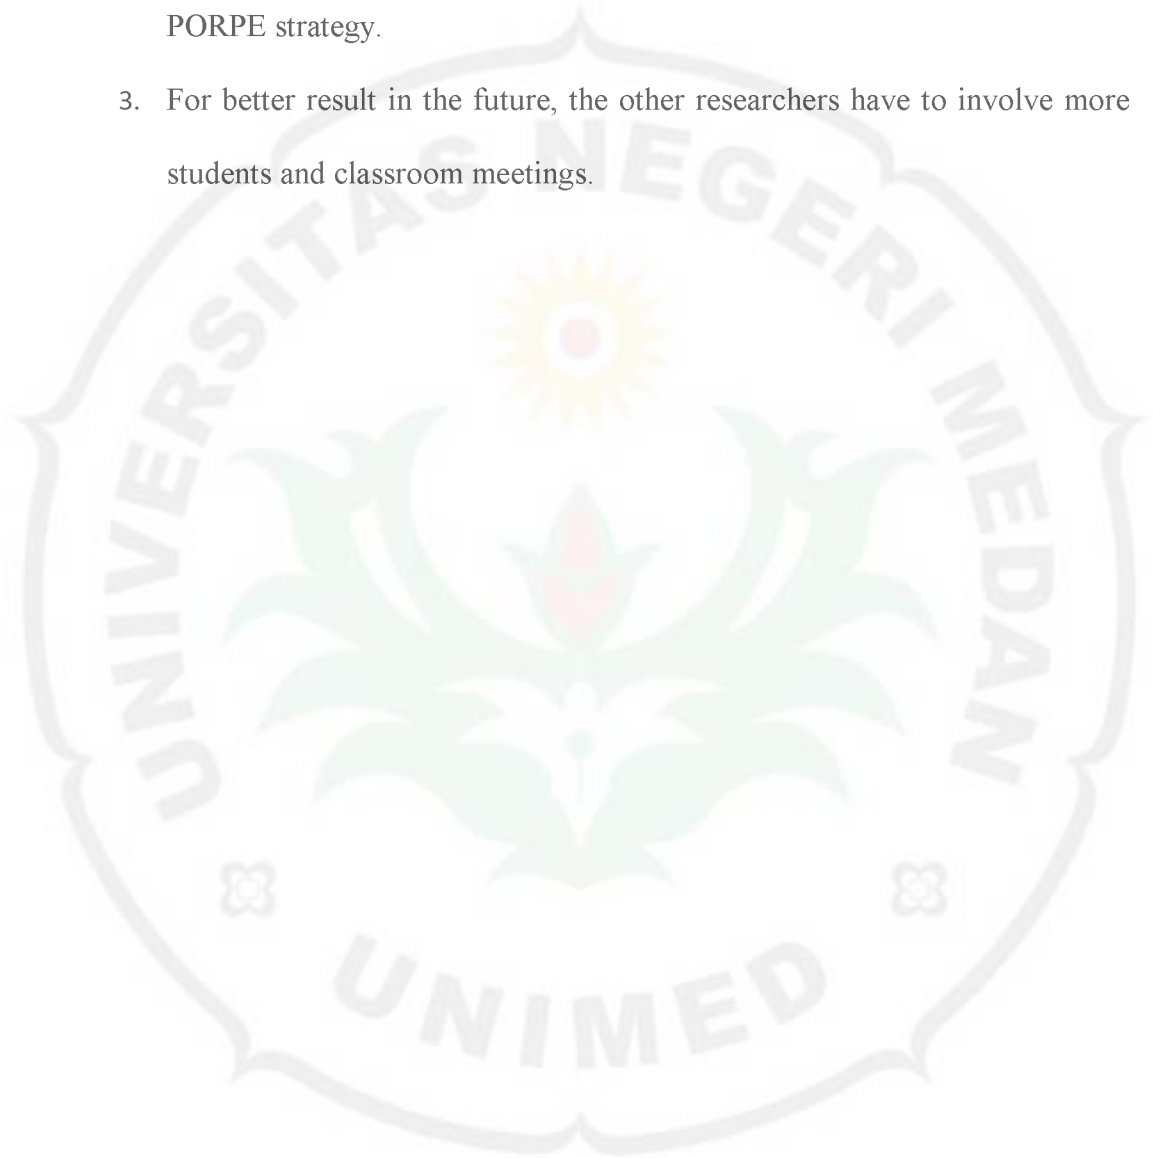

Based on the research findings, the researcher concluded that there was a significant effect of applying PORPE strategy on students' reading comprehension. This strategy was proved statistically as an effective strategy because applying PORPE strategy in teaching reading comprehension got better result than without applying PORPE strategy. Teachers also became creative and innovative in varying their teaching so that the students would not easily get bored with the lesson in class and their ability in reading would increase. The scores of the students that were taught by applying PORPE strategy were also higher than those who were taught without applying PORPE strategy. Therefore, this research proved that teaching reading by means of PORPE strategy was more effective than teaching reading comprehension by using conventional method.

B. Suggestions

Based on the conclusions above, the results of this research contributed some valuable suggestions for those who interested in teaching reading as follows:

1. The English teachers should improve their strategy in teaching reading comprehension by applying PORPE strategy, so that the students can comprehend on what they had read.

2. Students are advised to have more practices in reading and applying PORPE strategy.
3. For better result in the future, the other researchers have to involve more students and classroom meetings.

THE
Character Building
UNIVERSITY