

CHAPTER V CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusions

After analyzing the data, conclusion were drawn the following.

1. Six types of collocations used in all genre of reading text in English textbook except type 6 (Adverbs and adjectives) only found in Recount text and News Item text. The six types of collocation were (1) Adjectives and Nouns, (2) Verbs and Nouns, (3) Noun + noun, (4) Verbs and expression of preposition, (5) Verbs and Adverbs, and (6) Adverbs and Adjectives. The total number of collocations were 894 where for type 1 was 194, type 2 was 446, type 3 was 75, type 4 was 150, type 5 was 22 and type 6 was 7.
2. Almost all the types of collocations found in the all genre of reading text except type 6 (adverbs and adjectives) found only in Recount and News Item text. The collocation could identify by using the dictionary. The collocation used in the textbook sounds natural and it was easy for writer to identified the collocation because the textbook used common vocabulary that easy to understand.
3. The most dominant type of collocation used in the English textbook was type 2 (Verbs and Nouns) collocation.

B. Suggestions

In relation to the conclusion, suggestions were staged as following.

1. The students who learnt in linguistics and students who interested with this study should understand about the types of collocations and differentiate the types of collocations until this knowledge can be useful for students who wanted doing research deeper about collocations.
2. The teacher who used the textbook as learning material should choose the right textbook and easy to understand both by teacher and also the students. Teacher should have linguistic comprehend.
3. The reader who found the difficulties in understanding the English text should learnt about the collocation and understand about the differences between types of collocations