

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusions

This thesis on experiential function has been analyzed and based on the analysis, the researcher presents some valuable conclusions.

- There are 5 types of Processes used in the texts of the daily the Jakarta Post. They are Material, Mental, Relational, Verbal, Existential Processes. The dominant used of Process is Material one.
- There are 4 types of Circumstances used in the texts of the daily the Jakarta Post. They are Extent, Location, Manner, and Contingency. It appears that the dominant type used is Location.
- The pattern of Experience Functions used in the daily The Jakarta Post are attributed to the effect of social context where politics in which the government policy is required to be executed.

5.2 Suggestions

With reference to the conclusions, suggestions are staged as the followings.

- It is suggested that readers should carefully examine the use of Process and Circumstances by which they can understand the texts better.
- It is suggested that the editor of The Jakarta Post should choose suitable words because it gives greatly influenced by the mission or voice of the society, so it is suggested for the writers to propose balance information to certain social issue.