

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis has been written in partial fulfillment of the degree of Magister of Humaniora in English Applied Linguistics Study Program, PostGraduate School, State University of Medan

The most wonderful great thanks is given to her mighty Lord- Jesus Christ for giving her strength, blessing, love, caring, health, guiding and hope in every breath that she takes in her life. Nothing she can be done without His blessing.

The writer admits that she had some difficulties in completing this thesis. It was lasted for 5 months. However, she could overcome all of the difficulties with the assistance of many people.

For this reason, she wishes to express her hartiest gratitude to Dr. Lince Sihombing M.Pd., her first adviser and Prof. Tina Mariany Arifin, M.A.,Ph.D, her second adviser for their generous assistance, advice, and precious time spent on correcting the thesis draft. Her special thanks is also directed to Prof. Amrin Saragih M.A., Ph.D., Dr. Busmin Gurning M.Pd., Prof. Dr. Jawasi Naibaho for their precious constructive criticisms, corrections, and suggestions on the draft during the seminar proposal and the examination. The writer's warm and sincere thanks also go to Prof. Tina Mariany Arifin, M.A.,Ph.D, the head of LTBI program for the advice and valuable encouragement and all the lecturers who have assisted her with their knowledge and experiences during her academic years at the Graduate School.

Her deepest gratitude also goes to her beloved Mother, Father, Ochan, Cupy, Porman, Vania and my dear Domo who have given their love, support, fund, and prayers in completing this thesis. In addition, it goes to all her classmates who for their friendship and their constructive criticism in improving the content of her thesis. Her friends- Kardo, Mika, Netty, Nurminta, Agus, Jhoe, Dave n the Gangs, Miss. Simamora and partners, uncle Rudi for their prayer, smile, and spirit in writing this thesis. May God Bless You All.

Medan, November 2007

Merry Menzus Frida Bancin

055010176