

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

With the blessing and the grace of the Almighty God upon the writer's study, she has been able to complete her thesis as a partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Magister Humaniora in the English Applied Linguistic Study Program Postgraduate School in the State University of Medan.

At this time opportunity, the writer would like to thank those who have helped make this work possible for her to complete. Her deepest gratitude would have to go to her first and second advisers, Prof. Amrin Saragih, M.A., Ph.D., and Prof. Dr. T. Silvana Sinar, M.A., Ph.D., respectively, for their valuable time in giving suggestions, comments, and criticisms on this thesis.

Her sincerest gratitude is also expressed to Prof. Dr. Busmin Gurning, M.Pd., Dr. Sri Minda Murni, M.S., and Prof. Dr. Berlin Sibarani, M.Pd., for their constructive comments and suggestions for the improvement of this study. Her best regards also go to all the dearest lecturers who have shared their knowledge and skill with her during her academic years in the State University of Medan.

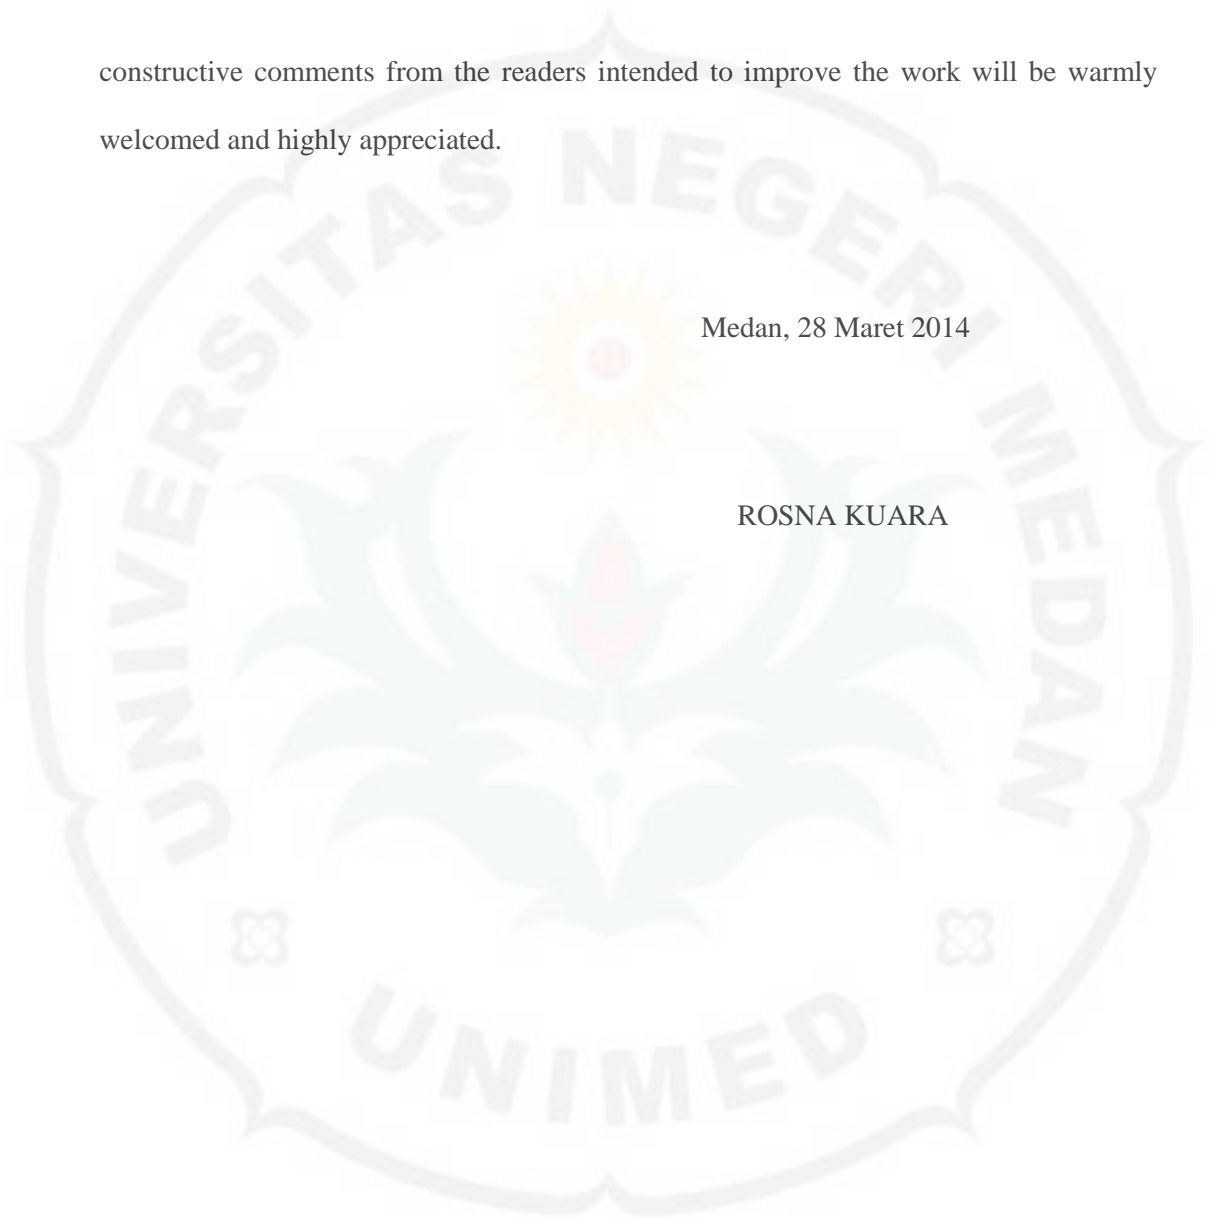

Last but not least, she would also like to extend her heartiest gratitude to her beloved family, her parents, husband, and her two children for having given endless support, care, and pray during the writing of this thesis. Her appreciation also goes to the principals and teachers in W.R. Supratman 1 and Methodist 2 who have been encouraging enough in many different ways to make all this complete.

Though the writer has tried her very best effort in writing this thesis, she realizes that it is still far from being perfect. In this frame of thought, any suggestions or constructive comments from the readers intended to improve the work will be warmly welcomed and highly appreciated.
