The screenshot shows a Gmail interface with an email from editorial@f1000research.com dated Thursday, Mar 25, 2021, 12:46 PM. The subject is "Manuscript 51646 conditionally accepted for publication". The email content includes:

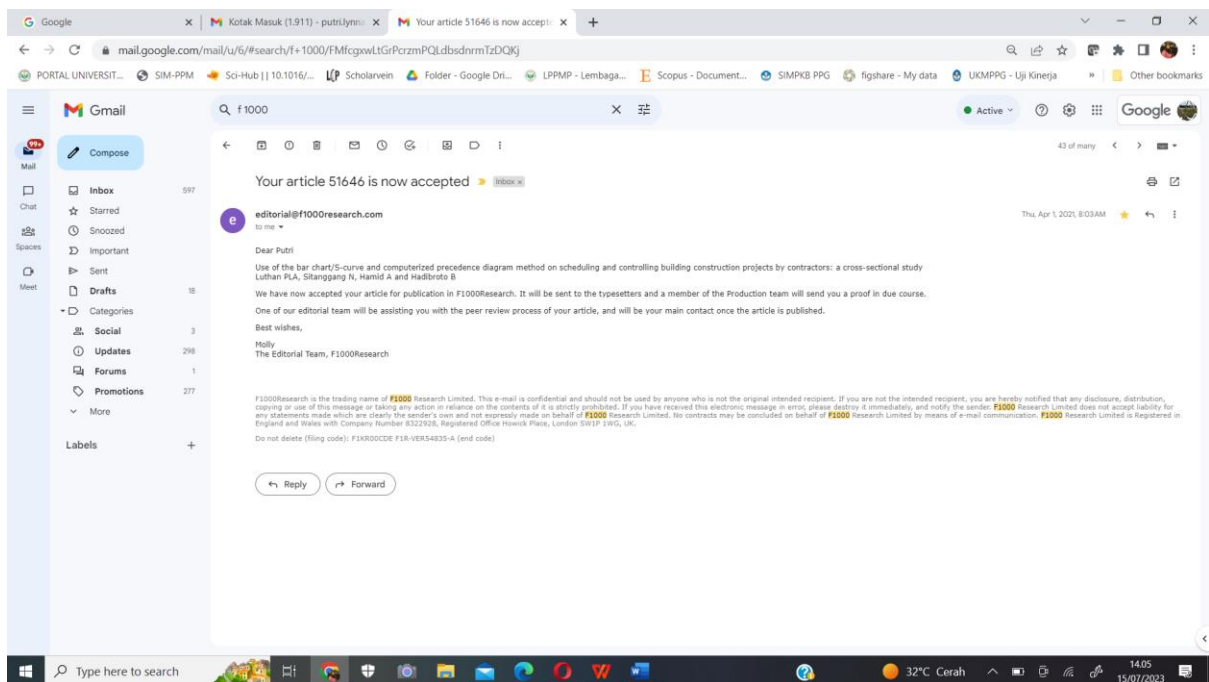

- Greeting: Dear Putri
- Subject: Comparative Study on the Use of S Curve-Bar Chart and Ms Project-PDM Methods in Scheduling and Controlling Building Construction Project
- Author: Luthan P. Sitanggang N, Hamid A and Hadibroto B
- Message: Thank you for your submission to F1000Research. We have noted a few issues with your manuscript (below) – once these are addressed we will be pleased to accept your article for publication.
- Content: Heavy copyediting has been performed in the abstract in order to improve the flow and readability of your article; please make sure the meaning has been maintained.
- STROBE statement: We endorse the STROBE statement for observational cross-sectional reporting. We would suggest that you check that the article adheres to this checklist; Track changes in the Word document provide some queries relating to the STROBE checklist, but these are not exhaustive.
- Figure 1: If this image is re-produced from another publication, please make sure that you have the appropriate permissions. The author is responsible for obtaining permission from the copyright holder (and any fees that are applicable). Please include a note in the legend as follows: "(A) has been reproduced with permission from [include original publication citation]." Or please include a note as per the instructions of the copyright holder.
- Reviewers: As you know, F1000Research operates an author-driven publication model. This means that you will be responsible for suggesting suitable reviewers, whom we invite on your behalf, giving you an opportunity to ensure that appropriate experts review your article. Our transparent peer review process means that the peer review reports, together with the reviewers' names, will be published alongside your article.
- Publication process: To avoid delay to the publication process, we need you to provide us with at least five potential reviewers who meet our reviewer criteria before we can publish your article – please be aware that it is likely we will need to request further reviewer suggestions after publication. Please go to your Submit Reviewers page, where you will find a useful tool to help you find reviewers; use this page to track the progress of the peer review process for your article. You can access this page directly via the article's record under My Research >> Submissions. See also our reviewer criteria and tips for finding reviewers.
- Reviewer selection: Please remember that suggested reviewers should have appropriate level of experience and the right expertise to judge your article; they must be able to provide an unbiased report (e.g. they must not be recent collaborators or colleagues in your institute). All reviewer suggestions are checked by the editorial team and will be rejected if they do not meet our criteria.
- Payment: As F1000Research is open access, we do require payment of the Article Processing Charge (APC) to be able to complete the processing of your submission. The APC is $500.00 after any discounts you are eligible for have been applied. Please provide us with the details of the individual/organization taking responsibility for paying the fee as soon as possible. Please sign in with the credentials you used to submit the article or you will not be able to access this page. Our accounts department will be in touch regarding payment.
- Final steps: We have also lightly copyedited your article – please download the document and check you are happy with the amendments and then address the queries detailed above using track changes in Word. Please return your revised manuscript to the e-mail address above. Please note that this is your final opportunity to make any changes to the content of your manuscript. Once the typeset PDF of your manuscript has been created, we will send you a final PDF proof for checking prior to publication.

Dear Putri,

I'm pleased to let you know that your article "Use of the bar chart/S-curve and computerized precedence diagram method on scheduling and controlling building construction projects by contractors: a cross-sectional study" has just been published on F1000Research.

The Peer Review Process

We are now inviting the reviewers you have suggested. As part of their reports, reviewers are asked to provide a recommendation of 'Approved', 'Approved with Reservations' or 'Not Approved', and their report will be published alongside the article with their full name and affiliation. You will be able to respond to any published reports with a comment and/or by publishing revisions as a new version of your article - we will send you instructions on how to proceed when you begin to receive reports.

It is important that authors do not contact the reviewers directly, as this could result in invalidating their report.

Please note that we will ask you for additional reviewer suggestions if the invited reviewers decline. In order to avoid any delays with the peer review of your article, please continue to check your Suggest Reviews page for updates and respond to any email requests as soon as you can.

Linking Your Data

Now that your article has been published and assigned a DOI (10.12688/f1000research.51646.1) we would strongly recommend that you include this DOI in the metadata of any published dataset associated with this article. If you would like assistance with this, please contact our editorial team.

Increasing Discoverability

Now that your article has been published, why not take advantage of the tools we provide to help maximize your article's reach and share your article using the Email and Share options on the article page.

Your article will be listed in ePMC shortly as a preprint, and then updated once it has passed peer review.

Regards,
Zena Nyakoojo
Senior Managing Editor, F1000Research

Press releasing articles: Please avoid promoting articles in the media until the article has passed the open peer review process. Promotion on social media is encouraged once the article has been published, please ensure the full citation is included, as this contains the peer review status.
