

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

Based on the research data analysis, findings and discussion, the researcher found out the result that represent in this thesis about the implementation classroom management at ninth grade students of Mts Negeri 2 Medan. Classroom management applied in teaching and learning process was divided into the physical design of classroom which include seating arrangement; orderly rows rules and routines, relationship among students and teacher-students, engaging and motivation instruction and the last is discipline. The five components were support the good classroom management in teaching English at Ninth grade students of Mts Negeri 2 Medan.

B. Suggestions

The researcher provides suggestions that may be useful for schools, teacher, and also for other researchers who will carry out the same topic in the research;

For the school: It is expected that it will support the efforts of English teachers for their classroom management to improve the teaching and learning process. Principal needs to provide facilities that encourage student motivation in learning provide suitable media of teaching for students in the school. Because the use of supported facilities and media of teaching will be able to make students more enthusiastic in the teaching and learning process. For the teacher: It is expected that English teacher will be more creative in teaching students. Teacher must increase the creativity in developing teaching and learning activities in the classroom and helping students to understand the lesson. Teacher must be able to create and use various media and model learning in teaching English to students. In addition, English teacher must also be able to provide a conducive teaching and learning environment to increase students' motivation and interest in the class.

For the other researchers: Researcher expected that other researchers can use the results of their research findings as a reference. And it is also recommended for other researchers to conduct further research on classroom management applied by English teacher because this research is still far from perfect.

