ABSTRACT

RAUDHINI ASLAMİYAH PURBA. The Role of Housewives (Single parent) in Forming the Independence of Children Aged 5-6 Years in Banjar Sari Village, Bandar Masilam District, Simalungun Regency. Skripsi. Medan: Faculty of Education. Universitas Negeri Medan. 2024.

This research aims to analyze the role of housewives (single parents) in forming the independence of children aged 5-6 years in Banjar Sari Village, Bandar Masilam District, Simalungun Regency. This research was conducted in Banjar Sari Village, Bandar Masilam District, Simalungun Regency, with the subjects in this research being 5 single parents in Banjar Sari Village. This type of research is qualitative research. The research instruments that researchers used were observation and interviews. Based on the results of interviews with 5 single parent housewives, the results showed that mothers A, D, and E were more dominant in not guiding their children than in guiding their children, while mothers B and C were more dominant in guiding their children. Mothers A, D, and E did not give rewards to their children for their success, while mothers B and C gave rewards to their children. The five single mothers give responsibility to their children in their own ways. The impact of the role given by single parents is that children who are given guidance, rewards and responsibility will show more independence than children who are not given guidance, rewards and responsibility.

Keywords : Role of Housewife (Single parent), Independence of children aged 5-6 Years.
