

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter draws conclusions and suggestions based on the analysis depiction of women roles in the “Women Talking 2022” movie as explained before.

A. Conclusion

Based on the data analysis from the research results and the previous discussion, this study analyzes the research using the theory of Bouta and Freks (2002) with qualitative research methods from Taylor, Bogdan, and DeVault. This research explored the types of women's roles and explained the meaning of the representation of women's roles in the movie, then the author concludes below:

1. The type of women roles from the data found by the researcher, the most dominant roles depicted by the characters in the "Women Talking 2022" movie are women as coping and survival, actors women as victims and women as peace activists.
2. The type of sign that appears dominantly is qualisign, because many signs appear based on the nature of words supported by transcripts and scene descriptions in the data; the type of object that appears dominantly is index, because many signs appear based on causal relationships, which the characters in the movie feel based on the storyline used; and the type of interpretant that appears dominantly is argument. After identifying the types of signs found in each data that will support the depiction of women roles in the movie Women Talking. It can be concluded that the role of women is depicted with several types in the colony and they experience injustice in their lives but they try to get a better life by leaving the colony.

B. Suggestion

Based on the above conclusions, there are several suggestions given by researchers to readers in conducting related research. These suggestions are as follows;

1. Research on the types of women's roles can be used as a new reference that provides an understanding of the knowledge of women's roles that can be seen in everyday life. Therefore, researchers invite readers to understand what the role of women is in everyday life.
2. Future researchers can examine various topics and matters related to the role of women.
3. It is suggested that future researchers can expand their investigation into feminist literary studies related to women's roles and gender equality.

THE
Character Building
UNIVERSITY