

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

The researcher presented the conclusions and suggestions. They are as follows:

A. Conclusions

Based on the discussion in Chapter IV, the teacher implemented the jigsaw method following the steps of Eliot Aronson and used the digital web “ProWritingAid” as a digital media to help students to write well by paying attention to grammar and good word order. However, two steps were not completed: step nine; which invited the students to read their text, and number ten; which gave a quiz to the students. The teacher couldn’t complete those steps because of the time wasted in the group discussion in the expert group and jigsaw group. Except that the implementation of this method helped students to be more active, more creative in writing, and easier to understand the topic because of the new atmosphere of the method and also the web digital media that helped the students to write more easily.

B. Suggestions

1. For the English Teachers
 - a. Teachers should use this method while teaching more often so that the students would be bored and would gain more interest in the learning process.

b. Teachers should have good time management in teaching so that the teaching process can be more effective and efficient.

c. Teachers should use more digital media as a tool in the learning and teaching process, which would make students enjoy learning English.

2. For the Students

a. Some students still need to be more responsible, so their group can complete the task on time.

3. For Further Researchers

a. Other researchers can change the students' text results from individual to group results, so that time can be sufficiently utilized until the last step.

b. Other researchers can conduct further research on the use of digital media used in this research, namely "ProWritingAids".
