

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusion

After investigating the data, the conclusions of this study were:

1) Using various types of Horatian, Juvenalian, and Manippean satire, the story effectively highlights human stupidity, ethics, and individual evil. through satire Horatian provides subtle allusions to reveal stupidity or hypocrisy, this encourages introspection in a subtle way. In contrast, juvenile satire is sharp and aims to expose hypocrisy and bring about change. Manippean satire, critiques moral failings and examines human nature.

2) In addition, this comic also identifies satire techniques such as parody, irony, paradox, antithesis, exaggeration, and anticlimax. The ability of satire to highlight and criticize shortcomings and absurdity is the link between the satirical approach and reflection on life. Irony, paradox, antithesis, exaggeration, anticlimax, enlargement, and parody are satirical techniques used to mock or criticize a particular topic. With the use of this technique, satire encourages critical thinking about various aspects of life and reconsider behavior in their own lives. For example, irony expresses someone's opposing meaning, thereby triggering self-reflection and reconsideration of actions. next, paradox and antithesis Contradiction in a person's statements or behavior, which encourages introspection to examine with self, finding contradictions or inconsistencies. Exaggeration and enlargement highlight behavior or points of view that, although seemingly normal at the time, are actually ridiculous. This shows us that overreacting often has bad consequences. Parody and anticlimax, which also reveal stupidity or weakness. It encourages deep reflection, which increases awareness and intelligence.

The account @trumpbertcomic shows how satire can effectively encourage critical thinking and awareness. It encourages reflection by exposing shortcomings in a light way and thought-provoking way.

B.Suggestion

This research can be expanded in the future by examining satirical content analysis on various social media accounts and platforms to see how satire changes form and impact according to the audience and medium. Analyzing satirical content on social media sites such as Facebook, YouTube, and Instagram, we can observe different media themes and target audiences. The delivery of satire can be influenced by the unique characteristics of each platform, such as Instagram's visual focus, Facebook's longer text format, and YouTube's video content. Through comparative analysis of satire across these platforms, researchers can express the strengths and weaknesses of each medium when it comes to conveying satirical messages.