

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusions

Based on what the researcher has written and scrutinized in the previous chapter, she discovers that a maxim is flouted for getting a conversational implicature. Therefore, it is important to know flouting maxim, especially in conversation. Due to the important of understanding, flouting maxim of the research upon the Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) has been done and the following can conclude the result.

1. It was found that four types of flouting maxim (maxim of quantity, quality, relevance and manner) occurred in all parts of Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) talkshow program on TV One. The maxim of quantity is the most dominant used in the conversation. Besides, also found the flouting maxims of combination.
2. The process of using the flouting maxim in Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) talkshow program on TV One is by using implication to show the happens in the conversation under certain situations, to give the information of the opinions and arguments in detail, the speaker desires the greatest understanding in his/her recipient because it is expected that the interlocutor is able to uncover the hidden meaning behind the utterances.
3. There are two reasons for flouting the maxim: a) to explain more about something; usually someone tries to explain about something by giving much information and expecting that the hearer will understand more about the topic and b) to expect something; Sometimes people act and say more words to show something. They use this condition in order to expect something from other person.

5.2 Suggestions

Having seen the result of the study, the researcher would like to offer the suggestions as follows:

1. It is advisable for readers to understand the cooperative principle with its maxims, especially the four types of flouting maxim on Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) talkshow program on TV one in order to avoid misunderstanding among the participants and to get the speaker's intention through his utterances on the conversation.
2. It is expected to the teachers and students to pay attention to the dominant type of flouting maxim on Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) program. It is due to the dominant type of flouting found here (maxim of quantity) is necessarily to be applied by the teachers in the classroom in order to give more and detail information to their students.
3. It is suggested to other researchers and the students of English Applied Linguistics, who are taking pragmatics, start to analyzing and conducting further research in order to get other reasons of the dominant type of flouting maxims from other topics and parts on Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) program.
