

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

After analyzing the data, it can be concluded as the following :

1). The students' vocabulary achievement increased from the first cycle to second cycle. It was proved by the mean score of the last test (80.45) was higher than mean score of the orientation test (46.95).,it means that there was an improvement of students' vocabulary achievement by applying personal vocabulary notes technique. This improvement was also supported by the quantitative data. Diary notes, interview, and observation sheet supported the improvement of students' vocabulary achievement by using personal vocabulary notes technique.

2). It is found that the score get improved from the orientation test to the second test continuously. Therefore, personal vocabulary notes significantly improve students' vocabulary achievement.

B.Suggestion

In relation to the conclusion, suggestion are staged as the following :

- 1.) For English teacher, it is useful as one of the alternative techniques to teach vocabulary because by using this technique the teacher makes the students become active. The teacher did not always give some instruction to the students to write the difficult words, but the students write their difficult words themselves.
- 2.) For the students, it is useful to give important information. The students are more interested to learn vocabulary than before and they become more active than before because they do not only write and memorize their words, but also know how to pronounce them and the words function in the sentences.
