

ABSTRACT

Putro, Eko Widoyo. 209321046. The Use of Community Language Learning Method to Improve Students' Speaking Achievement. A Thesis. English and Literature Department, Faculty of Languages and Arts, State University of Medan 2015.

This study is aimed at improving the second grade of students' speaking achievement by using Community Language Learning (CLL) Method. The research was conducted by applying classroom action research. The subject of this study was second grade of Private Senior High School (Sekolah Menengah Atas Swasta) of Dwi Tunggal Tanjung Morawa which consisted of 31 students. To collect the data, the instruments used were primary data (Speaking Test) and secondary data (interview sheet, observation sheet, field notes). It can be seen from the score in test I, test II and test III. In the Test I, the mean of the students' score was (64.77), in the Test II was (71.35), and the mean of the students' score of the Test III was (80.90). Based on the interview, and observation sheet, it shows that the expression and excitement of the students got improved as well. It was found that teaching of speaking by using Community Language Learning could significantly improve students' speaking achievement.

Key Words: Community Language Learning, Method, Improvement, Speaking Achievement