

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusions

The conclusions of this research are drawn as the following:

1. The application of Peer Feedback in teaching writing narrative text can increase students' achievement.
2. Peer Feedback is one of effective strategies that can be used in teaching writing narrative text.

B. Suggestions

Based on the conclusions, suggestions are staged as the following:

1. English teachers are recommended to apply Peer Feedback in teaching writing narrative text since the strategy can significantly affect the students' writing achievement.
2. Students are needed to understand the steps of applying Peer Feedback.
3. Other researchers develop the related study to give positive effect in teaching and learning.
4. Other researchers are recommended to develop the students' competencies about the material and make sure that each student has equal competencies.