CHAPTER V
CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusions

After analyzing the using of the methods that is used by author in developing the characterization of the characters in the Land of Five Towers novel, the conclusions can be drawn as follows:

1. There are two methods that is used by author in developing the characterization of the characters in the Land of Five Towers novel which are telling method (characterization through the use of names, characterization through appearance, and characterization by the author). And showing method (characterization through conversation;, characterization through the location and the situation of the event or conversation, characterization through what characters do, the intonation of sound and the vocabulary, and characterization through the mental quality of the character).

2. The dominant method that is used the author to develop the characterization of the main character is showing method in the Land of Five Towers novel is showing method with the 43 occurrences (57,8%).

3. The showing method is the dominant method in developing the characterization of the main character in the Land of Five Towers novel. This happens because the journey of main character's life is unpredictable, so the author of the novel tries to make the reader's perception by the showing the main character does, though the conversation, etc. so that the readers can know how the main character can be a success man . The main character is never ever gives up in finding her future life. He has a magic word "Man Jaddah wa Jaddah" means he who gives his all will surely succeed.

4. The characterization through the location and situation hasn't percentage.

B. Suggestions

Related to the conclusions, it is well to suggest:

1. For the readers, it is better to understand the methods that is used by author in developing the characterization of the characters in the Land of Five Towers novel, so they will know how the way of the author in developing a characterization of the characters.

2. For other researches, this thesis can be used as reference when they decide to discuss the same topic for their thesis.