

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

After analyzing this film, finally writer went to the conclusions that presented as follows:

1. The five types of oppressions were occurred in “12 Years a Slave” Movie. They are powerlessness, exploitation, marginalization, culture imperialism and violence.
2. The slaves also fought for resisting. There were four resistances were shown toward the oppressions. They are revolt, radicalism, asking for help and religion.
3. Racism which guided into slavery had big impact either for the slaves or white Americans. This could be concluded that the main reason why this issued happened because the stigma which spread quickly and got worse day by day. Slavery could happen to everybody who was racist since it did not recognize the place, condition or human rights. It also could not be denied that racism brought into the destruction to the harmonization of human. It created some sides of being inferior and the other side of being superior.
4. As what Salomon experienced in his true story made us aware that there was still a light for finally getting free from racist deed around us. It also encouraged us to be braver to open our mouth and mind if it was not true or fail. Even though so, if someone who really wanted to keep the justice

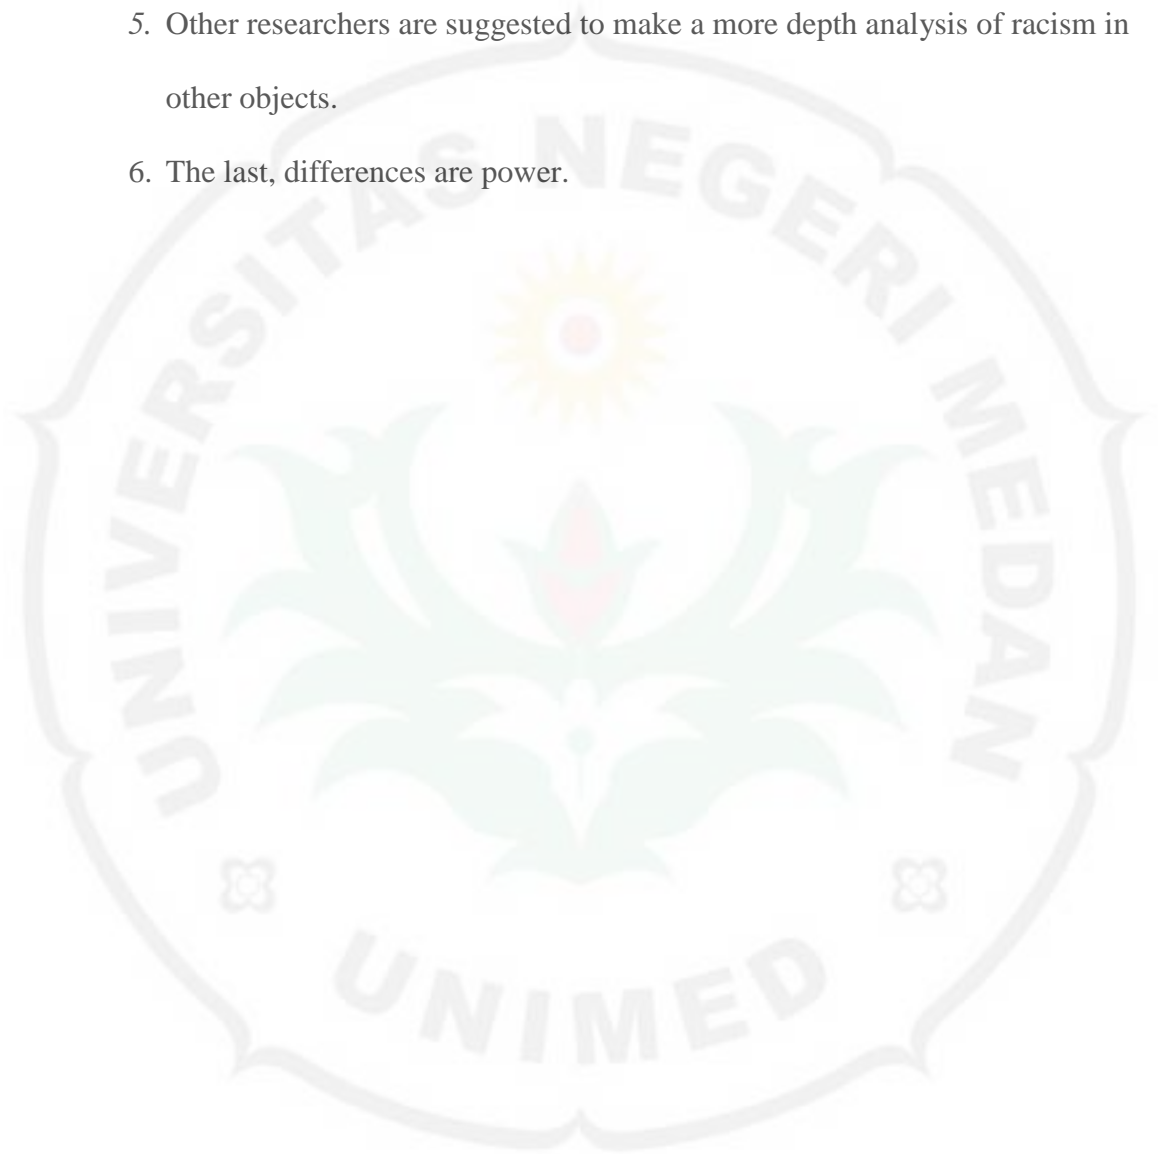

5. it would be even it did. Salomon who never gave up for defending his position finally being brave to mount his strength which finally got his justice.

B. Suggestion

There are several suggestions could offer to the readers, which are:

1. Racism which was happened because of skin color could not be a measure to decide someone's trait. People should not judge someone because of skin color since no one could decide and prove color differences the certain decision to become human. All human are same as God's creation.
2. Those who ever experienced racism should not let the oppressor ruin their mind, they should be brave to open up their mind, keep their head up against those oppression. They should believe there was still light for finally getting free, the only thing need just being brave. Not to mention Salomon who never gave up and finally got his freedom after 12 years.
3. Racism issue was quite important to study since it would enlarge someone's mind about being racist and judged someone upon it. Everybody should be aware to this global issue.
4. As in Indonesia as multicultural country needed to learn more how to unite in those diversity. Indonesia should create an awareness and openness to those differences. This also would be a reminder for Indonesia which ever experienced the same racist issue when 1998.

5. Other researchers are suggested to make a more depth analysis of racism in other objects.
6. The last, differences are power.
