

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusions

Based on the analysis, the conclusions were stated as the following :

1. There are no consistent characteristics of male and female in using the language in their interaction in the family with different ethnics and social status. Man use the man's linguistics characteristics and also use the woman's linguistic characteristics to show their powerfulness and powerlessness, It is also happen to the woman.
2. The reasons of causing male and female differentiation in being more direct and less direct are caused by 2 factors there are (1) social status which is divide into economic status and cultural status and (2) personality traits of male in female in the family.

5.2 Suggestions

In relation to the conclusions, suggestions are offered as the following :

1. Since the subjects of this study are limited to the Karonese husbands with Javanese wives, it is suggested that further research with the subject of Javanese husbands and Karonese wives in order to have further data or finding which may support or weaken the findings of the present study.
2. Based on the findings, this study is focused on ethnics and social status, it is suggested to the further researcher to point out the other factors to get deeper findings, such as personality, age, and etc.
3. Based on the findings, this study is suggested to the readers that have the different fact in the society as the comparison on the theory.