

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The completion of this thesis is impossible without the support of many people around and close to the writer. First and foremost, praise and thank be to Jesus Christ, God The Almighty, for the grace and blessings in her life especially in presenting this academic work as one of the requirements to obtain the degree of Master Humaniora.

The writer would like to express her deepest gratitude to Prof. Dr. Berlin Sibarani, M.Pd. and Prof. Dr. Lince Sihombing, M.Pd. not only for their valuable knowledge, suggestions and comments, but also for their precious time spared in guiding, advising, and correcting the draft of this thesis until its present form. May God bless them in all activities they do.

Her special thanks goes to her reviewers and examiners, Prof. Dr. Sri Minda Murni, M.S., Dr. Anni Holila Pulungan, Dr. Zainuddin, M.Hum and Prof. Dr. Sumarsih, M.Pd., for their great inputs in the attempt to meet the requirements of the content presented in this thesis.

She would also like to extend her sincere thankfulness to Mr. Farid Maa'ruf, as the staff of LTBI, for his assistance regarding the administrative procedures during the completion of this thesis. May success and happiness be with him.

In the process of undertaking this graduate study, the writer expresses her profound and sincere gratitude to her parents, Drs. J. Sitinjak and N. Marpaung, St. J. Simangunsong and L. Siahaan, to her husband, S. Simangunsong, M.M, to her lovely son, Susetyo Salomo Simangunsong and her sister, Marisi Debora, M. Hum. for their love and support. God is good, even very good for has given them in her life. May God bless them abundantly.

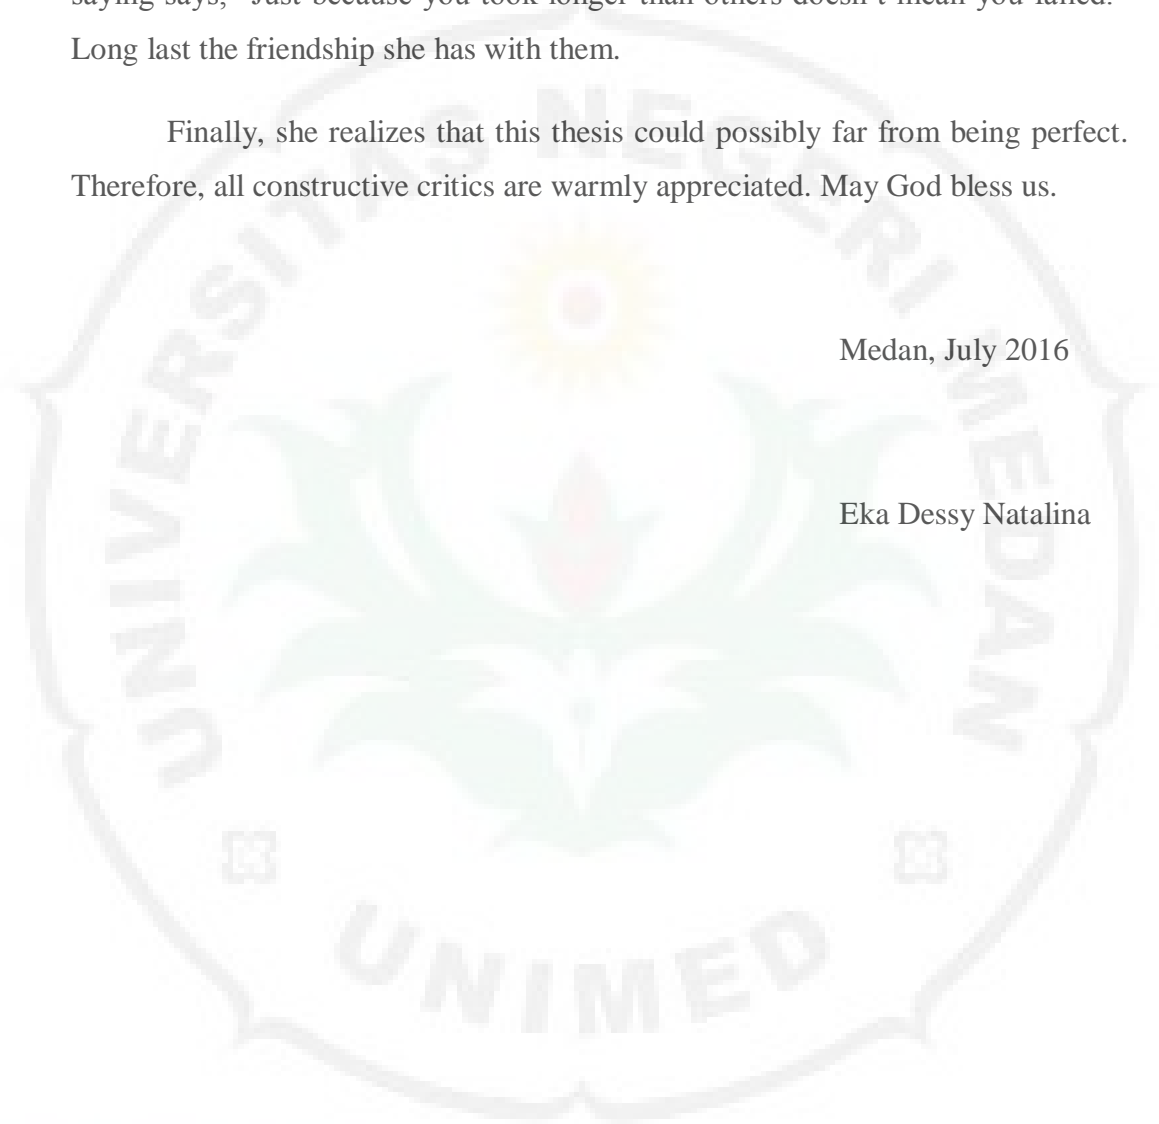

She would like to take this opportunity to thank all her friends in Class B, LTBI – XVIII for their positive support, contributions and togetherness for their early success in finishing this study has pushed the writer to do the same as an old saying says, “Just because you took longer than others doesn’t mean you failed.”

Long last the friendship she has with them.

Finally, she realizes that this thesis could possibly far from being perfect.
Therefore, all constructive critics are warmly appreciated. May God bless us.
