

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1. Conclusions

Based on the data analysis, there are some important points that can be concluded, they are:

1. It was found that there are the different attitudes showed by English teacher namely positive and negative attitude in teaching activities.
2. From the analysis, it was found how and when male and female English teacher used English or Indonesia and they mixed or switched the language in the teaching activities. It had been showed the components that influenced the practice. It can be seen in appendix E, F and H.
3. The reason of English teacher positive and negative attitude toward English have such attitude. Gender is more dominant factor that showed the attitude in teaching activities. Male teacher is more positive than female in deliver the language as a whole. It can be seen in appendix E as the result of data analysis, and it was supported from the questionnaire result in appendix F, the percentage of attitude in appendix G and interview result in appendix H.

5.2. Suggestions

In line with this research, some important suggestions are required to the other students, the next researchers, and the education authority, they are as the followings:

1. Since this research was conducted only in 40 days, the researcher suggests to the next researchers to conduct a longer research to get the better result. The researcher suggests investigating another aspect of attitude which occurs in the school interaction.
2. To other researcher, the researcher suggests to find out a new phenomenon of attitude toward language in another context so it will produce newest findings of the realization of language attitude.
3. To the education authority, the researcher suggests to make the rule of English use in SMA Negeri 2 Kotapinang and give the facilitate, motivate, exercise and infrastructure to the teachers.