

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The writer's greatest thanks should be addressed to the Lord Jesus Christ for His blessing to the writer, so that she has been able to complete this thesis for the sake of fulfilling one of the requirements for getting Magister Humaniora from the English Applied Linguistics of Graduate Program of The State University of Medan.

The writer owes people many thanks and this is the right moment to express her profound gratitude to all of them for all generous guidance and assistance. First of all, she would like to express her gratitude and thankfulness to her first consultant Prof. Dr. J. Naibaho, for his valuable time, ideas, comments and moral support shared to the writer in her finishing this thesis without his kindness this thesis would not have been written and also as the Head of English Applied Linguistics Program for his assistance in the process completing the necessary requirements.

The same gratitude is extended to Prof. Bahren Umar Siregar, Ph.D, her second consultant for the correction, ideas, moral support and supervision, and Dra. Meisuri, M.A, as Secretary of English Applied Linguistics for her suggestion and administrative work during the study and the process of conducting the research.

The writer's feeling of thankfulness is also sincerely expressed to Drs H.A. Siburian, M.A, her proof-reader for correcting the languages of the manuscript of the thesis during its development. Lord's blessing always together with his family and himself. Beside, she also thanks all of her proposal reviewers Prof. Tina Mariany A, M.A, Ph.D, Dr. Lince Sihombing, M.Pd and Dr. Berlin Sibarani.

M.Pd, who had given comments, suggestion and corrections on the thesis proposal before conducting the research. This thesis will probably have never been completed without their help, Thanks are also due to all lecturers of Graduate Program particularly on English Applied Linguistics Program, the staff of LTBI (Ms. Tio Siregar, ST), librarian of Graduate Program (Mr. Manalu), librarians of Nommensen University (Mr. Nababan and Mr. Simanjuntak) and librarians of UNIMED, where the writer has been benefited greatly from them, for lecturing, guidance, and encouragement during her academic class and for using the facilities from the library.

Her sincerest thanks are also due to all the informants where the writer has been helped and supported for the information by giving accurate information, suggestion and love her during conducting the research.

Her sincerest thanks are specially addressed to her beloved parents St. B. Manullang, BA and S. Br. Sinambela, her brothers' family Ir. R. Basar Manullang, MM & Dra. Rr.
