CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusions

Based on the findings in the previous chapter, conclusions are drawn as follows :

1. There are four categories of language of politics used during the general election 2004 which found in the banners, advertisements and speeches. The data were taken from April to Jun 2004. These are Political Doctrine, Miranda, Political Slogan and Political Formation.

2. Political Doctrine is dominantly used during the general election 2004 found in the banners, advertisements and speeches, with an occurrence of 55.6 % . Because in Political Doctrine the politicians describe some basic expectations and demands concerning power relations and practices in the society. how to organize Indonesian country for the future.

3. There are five types of processes of Transitivity used in language of politics found in the banners, advertisements and speeches, such as ; material process, mental process, relational process, verbal process, and existential process.

4. Thus, after analyzing based on the transitivity system, the researcher concludes that the relational process is the dominant process (47.66 %) used in the banners, advertisements and speeches. The dominant use of Relational process in language of politics during the Presidential and Parlementary election campaigns is attributed to three reasons namely : (1) Identification of the policy (2) description of policy and (3) Ownership of the proposal.

4. The finding of the study indicates that there is a significant effect of using language of politics on the electors. Specifically, the Political Doctrine results in approval from the electors.

5.2 Suggestions

Based on the conclusion above, the suggestions are started as follows :

1. It is advisable for the politicians to use the whole categories of language of politics especially political myth in writing political editorial texts.

2. It is advisable for the reader to learn English For Specific Purposes and by learning it.

the readers know some language variation and find specific terms.

3. It is advisable for the politicians to use transitivity system in writing the editorial political texts.

4. It is advisable for the readers to learn and analyse the use of transitivity in another texts, such as : novels, short stories, drama or poerty, etc.