ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis has been completed as partial fulfillment of the final academic requirement in obtaining the Degree of Magister Humaniora from The English Applied Linguistic Graduate Program from The State University of Medan, in Medan.

In completing this thesis, first and foremost, the writer would like to praise God Almighty for his abundant blessing in her life that has enable her to complete this thesis.

Her great gratitude is conveyed to both her consultants, Prof. Dr. Jawasi Naibaho, and Dr, Berlin Sibarani, who have given her such priceless guidance, comment, criticisms, and encouragement. For without their help and generosity in sharing their knowledge, the writer wouldn't be able to complete her thesis.

To the board of Examiners, Prof. D.P. Tampubolon, Ph.D., Prof. Dr. Amrin Sargih, M.A., and Dr. Lince Sihombing, M.Pd., the writer would like to convey her sincerest thanks for their useful input for the improvement of this thesis.

Her respect and thanks are also due to Prof. Dr. Jawasi Naibaho and Dra. Meisuri, M.A., both Head nad Secretary of LTBI, UNIMED, and also to Mr. Anto Manullang, for their help, suggestions and administrative assistance during her study and in conducting this research, and to all lectures who have advised and guided her throughout her academic years at this University.

Her special thanks is also directed to the subject's parents, Jimmi Edward Sitompul and Junita br. Lingga for giving her permission to use their son as the subject of this study, and all to my friends, Rotua Elfrida Pangaribuan, Lia Khalisa, Taruli Namora, Fauziah Khairani, Imelda Isabela, and Endra Torida, for their information and support in completing this study.

Last but not least , her deepest appreciation will undoubtedly be given to her father Mr.R.H. Sitompul and mother, Mrs. Sitompul S. br. Hutabarat, who have patiently brought me up with care and love, and also to all my brothers and sisters for their supports in completing this study.
