

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusions

After analyzing the data regarding characterizations of Amy Elliot Dunne as the main character in Gone Girl film, finally the writer concluded the conclusions that presented as follows:

1. There were five kinds of Amy characteristics in the film. Taking from her utterances or sentences based on speech and thought, the five kinds of Amy characteristics are: (1) intelligent, (2) perfectionist, (3) insecure, (4) liar and (5) vengeful.
2. The most dominant characteristic of Amy has in the film was liar. The percentage of Amy's characteristics consists of 7 quotes (17.94%) that revealed Amy as intelligent, 5 quotes (12.82%) as perfectionist, 11 quotes (28.20%) as insecure, 13 quotes (33.33%) as liar, and 3 quotes (7.69%) as vengeful.

B. Suggestions

Referring to the results of the study, there were some suggestions as follows:

1. The students who were interested in learning the characterization methods, should know about the principles of the method itself in order to enrich their knowledge when learn about it. In analyzing the characterization of the characters, it is suggests for the students to learn about it deeper and understanding the different methods in it.

2. The readers could be used the result of this study especially to the teaching and learning of characterization of character in literary work and can be used to develop and give inspiration for further study. This is believed to be able to reach the essence of education.

