

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusion

The researcher developed texts by considering the learner needs, teacher needs, and Islamic context then revised the material by validator so the researcher conducted the texts as new material that suitable for the students and teacher needs. It was designed a set of teaching material on narrative text. It was comprised three texts and three exercises. Those texts were Abrahah's Elephant, Neli's fruit and Pleci, Trumpets and Fireworks. The exercise consists of questions that related to the texts, determined the statements true or false and looked for the vocabulary by horizontal or vertical position.

B. Suggestions

The suggestions were given to have both theoretical and practical contributions:

1. Theoretically, the finding of the study was to enrich the theory of teaching material on narrative text especially fable Islamic stories.
2. Practically, the findings became source of reference for the English teachers especially in Islamic junior high school for the second grade students at MTsN 2 Medan.