ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Praise the Lord, the Almighty Father, in the name of Jesus Christ. First of all, the writer would like to thank Him for all His Blessing, Guidance and opportunity to her to undertake her study from the beginning until the completion of her thesis.

She would like to express her deepest gratitude to Prof. Tina Mariany Arifin, M.A., Ph.D., the Head of the English Applied Linguistics Study Program and at the same time her first Adviser, for her encouragement to begin her research, and for insight, guidance and patient during the writing of her thesis. Her meticulousness impresses her much. She is indebted to Dr. Busmin Gurning, M.Pd., her second Adviser, for his guidance, input and constructive critics to produce an excellent academic writing. Without the excellent supervision of both them, she is very sure that this academic taste will not have been completed. She is really cherished the different perspectives they have shared in the process of writing this thesis.

She is grateful to render her special thank to the following examiners of Applied Linguistics Study Program for the valuable of knowledge and advice they have transferred her: Prof. Amrin Saragih, M.A., Ph.D., who has helped her by correcting her thesis during his peak time. Prof Lince Sihombing, M.Pd., whose lecture on Semantics, has inspired her to conduct her research on Semantic field. Her willingness to rectify her thesis gave her indeed a special encouragement to persevere with her research and Dr. Eddy Setia. M.Ed.,TESP., who is giving a very smart advice to progress her thesis.

Most of all, she would particularly like to thank her family, her dad M.Gultom, her mom T br. Samosir and all her sisters Nora, Ika and Yohana whose love, support, advice and sense of humor have helped her more than they know. Thank you for giving her a very special appreciation for having the chance to experience the good taste of education at a higher level.

In addition, she would like to express her gratitude to her best friend Ade Aini Nuran and Farida Hanim Saragih who are very generous in giving their smart opinion about conducting this research and caring her in her hopeless moment. She also likes to thank the following people: Hamka whose willingness to set her thesis right and to prepare all the thing that she never thank you enough, Nazly Yusuf and Puan Suri Mira Anisa for giving her a warmest heart of friend, Marisi Debora who can always be my ingenuous sister and her extraordinary gratefulness also goes to Mr. Asfekar whose aid have assisted her so much.

Finally, she is grateful to all the students of the Applied Linguistics Study Program Intake XIII Parlindungan, Mellysa, Dini, Desi, Apri, Ipur, Santi and Hetty, for their good friendship.
