1. It is suggested the readers are able to develope this research more deeply especially in theme structure's theory so that it will be more perfectly in future time. For example, the data of the reseachto be more attractive in giving the 'new contribution' on future SFL research.

2. In this political context (non-literary text), researcher found that linguistic context and political context were applied. Further studies on the kinds of theme in political context such as single theme, multiple theme in declarative, imperative, introgative and negative clause should be carried out. This analysis is only discovering the kinds of theme in Dinald
