

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusions

Referring to the discussion of the research in the previous chapter, the writer comes to this following conclusion:

The student's worksheet which is developed in this study is suitable to be used for teaching vocabulary for Junior High School students' grade VII, because of the data collected through the validation sheets of the experts. The student's worksheet is used as media increased the students' vocabulary ability. This increase can be seen from the percentage of the validation sheets by the experts. The student's worksheet which is developed in this study is eligible to be used for teaching vocabulary for Junior High School students grade VII, because the results of validation from the experts was about 86,5% with category was excellent. In Fact, the student's worksheet is effectively used in the learning process .by using the interest practice to teach vocabulary is a good innovation since it can stimulate the students and easy to memorized the new vocabulary. Then, the student's worksheet is effectively used in the learning process especially in vocabulary.

B. Suggestions

By considering the conclusion mentioned above, the writer suggests that student's worksheet is one of the media in teaching vocabulary. The writer mentions some suggestions as follows:

1. Suggestions to other researcher

The researcher suggests to other researcher to develop the new student's worksheet in teaching vocabulary because the research proved that student's worksheet could stimulate the students to enrich their vocabulary and other knowledge based on their experience.

2. Suggestions to other teacher

The researcher suggests to English teachers to develop and apply student's worksheet as one of the alternative ways to increase the students' vocabulary ability because student's worksheet can attract the students to memorize the new vocabulary.