ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Countless individuals have contributed directly and indirectly to the research and to the completion of this thesis. The writer is deeply indebted to each one and therefore he would like to express his heartfelt gratitude.

He first wishes to thank his Board of Adviser members who guided his study, particularly his first adviser Prof. Amrin Saragih, M.A., Ph.D. who stimulated his interest in genre-based writing and taught him everything he knows about functional grammar. From the initial stage of the proposal throughout the entire process, he gave him invaluable advice, guiding him in formulating his research goals, defining his approach, and generally keeping his thesis on track. He cannot thank him enough for his excellent and patient assistance. Prof. Tina Mariany Arifin, M.A., Ph.D. who was always ready to discuss rhetorical and graphological questions with him and generously provided him with concrete suggestions on organizing his ideas and research materials.

He is also especially grateful to his Board of Reviewer members Prof. Dr. Busmin Gurning, M.Pd. also the Head of the English Applied Linguistics Postgraduate School, Prof. Dr. Lince Sihombing, M.Pd. also the Secretary of the English Applied Linguistics Postgraduate School, and Dr. Eddy Setia, M.Ed., TESP. who reviewed his proposal and offered many extremely helpful suggestions without which he would not have been able to bring this thesis into a final form.

He would like to thank his colleagues Jhonny Ekson Manalu, S.Pd., Delfiandri, S.Pd. who selflessly spared insurmountable time to facilitate his gaining access to every single empirical material required by this research so that it is feasible to its own extent of academic acclaim, and all his classmates belonging to B1 INTAKE XIV who have always been available for long distance communication whenever I call them in search of information from the edge of the world.

To the Board of Leadership members of SCMM Foundation of Sibolga Sr. Rosa Sihotang, SCMM (Chairperson), Sr. Angela Siregar, SCMM (Secretary), Sr. Scholastica Tamba, SCMM (Treasurer), and Drs. Kamaruddin Gultom, MM (Superintendent) he is indebted in very many ways. Words cannot express how grateful he is for their trust, encouragement and support. Once again, he is indebted in all these respects and more.

He is extremely indebted to his landlady, Herlina Matondang who has forever been generous to him and treated him as if he were her sibling son that he has received the best of everything

Sincerest appreciation is especially addressed to his beloved parents S. Habeahan and E. Matondang whose eternal love and continuous prayers have always empowered him to travel twenty four hours every week to attend classes at the State University of Medan in his endeavor of academic accomplishment. Their philosophy of life inspires him to make sense of profound meaning of education for the good of humanity. Their hard work ethic exemplifies his guiding principles of life and makes him believe that impossible is nothing.

All time and whole-hearted gratefulness is due to his dearest wife Mega Lindaria Hutabarart, and whole life three children Wonderaldo, Kezia Valentine, and Victoria Meglin who have lost a lot of his love but poured indispensable amount of theirs on him and constantly been supporting and encouraging during the course of his education. This thesis is dedicated to them and they deserve it.

God bless.

Medan, September 2010.
