

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the data analysis, there are some valuable points that can be conclude, they are :

1. There are 100% of respondents namely 100% of fluency in English in the family domain in Aceh.
2. There are 100% of respondents namely 100% of fluency in English in the family domain in Indonesia. When the respondents meet their friends in the family domain, they can communicate in English 93%.
3. There are 100% of respondents namely 100% of fluency in English in the family domain in Indonesia. When the respondents meet their friends in the family domain, they can communicate in English 93%.

5.2 Suggestion

In relations to the conclusion, some constructive points are suggested as the following.

1. It is suggested to other learners and researchers to be more concerned on the research about language shift in intermarriage and intra marriage people.
2. It is suggested to other learners and researchers to be more concerned on the research about language shift in intermarriage and intra marriage people.
3. It is suggested to other learners and researchers to be more concerned on the research about language shift in intermarriage and intra marriage people.
4. It is suggested to other learners and researchers to be more concerned on the research about language shift in intermarriage and intra marriage people.

THE
Character Building
UNIVERSITY