For Author:

I believe this manuscript is critically important. However, the author/s need to tighten up the language, write the abstract more concisely, cite each citation in APA format, and correct errors. Just a bit of advice the writing style on a scholarly article is almost like a reference for every 2 sentences or full paragraph. These are references that need to be embedded in your paragraphs. If you talk about an idea, concept, or model from a textbook, a video, article, or website, you need to provide a reference at the end of that sentence. The author (s) need to clearly provide a research problem in a way that creates a need for the study. This should be written in a way that makes the case that there is a genuine problem that is significant and therefore worthy of investigation.

Comments to the Author

1. In the Introduction section, please add the fact in the place of your research (native Punjab and mixed Punjab)
2. Authors need to strengthen the theoretical framework and empirical data analysis.
3. As a standard practice, authors are encouraged to send their manuscript for professional English editing, preferably by a native English speaking editor.
