

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION & SUGGESTIONS

A. Conclusion

After identified and analyzing all the data, the conclusion were drawn as following:

1. Based on the result from the speech, it is found that there are material process is (49,46%), mental process is (5,37%), Relational process (32,25%), behavioural process (2,15 %), verbal process (6,45%), and existential (4,30%). The material type was the prominently process used by Joko Widodo while the behavioural type identified as the most little process applied in Joko Widodo's Inauguration Speech. It was occurred because mostly of the Joko Widodo's utterances consisted of six process stated about his commitment or promise that had the purpose to bring the audience around. Moreover his utterances in the speech more emphasized as persuading to do an action. So the material type was the process that more discovered instead of the other process.
2. The analysis was also aimed to find the ideology in the Joko Widodo's Utterances. It was implemented the theory of CDA calle with the Fairclough's framework in determining the ideology had the inclination to the political ideology influenced over the audience. Based on the result had investigated. Joko Widodo tended to spread the socialism out where it was constructed as his approach to share a view to the audience. It could be found from how Joko Widodo wanted to give good service from the bureaucracy to the public , and give the opportunity to the young people who did not get job because it had been given away to the foreign employees and asking the audience to help together in resolving the problem in Indonesia.

3. Suggestions

Based of the conclusion, suggestion are offered as follow:

1. Theoretically, it suggested for the researcher who wants to know interreletaed theory of studies about Transitivity Process in Joko Widodo Inauguration Speech.
2. Practically, it suggested for the students of English and Literature department to learn more about Transitivity Process in Joko Widodo Inauguration Speech to improve their knowledge, also suggested for the reader who wants to know more about transitivity process on Joko Widodo nauguration speech.