

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, the writer would like to express her sincere gratitude to the Heavenly Father, Son of God Jesus Christ, and Holy Spirit for His amazing grace so that this thesis could be completed and to obtain a Master Degree in Applied Linguistics.

The writer would also like to convey the greatest thanks to Dr. Sri Minda Murni, M.S and Dr. T. Thyrhaya Zein, M.A., as her consultants for their great ideas, guidance and patience that lead the writer to the end of completion of this thesis.

The writer also would like to extend her sincere gratitude to the Head of LTBI, UNIMED, Prof. Dr. Busmin Gurning, M.Pd and his staff, Farid for their assistance regarding the administrative procedures. In addition, the writer would like to thank to all lecturers for their knowledge and character building during the process of teaching and learning either at classes or outside.

At this opportunity, the writer as well would like to express her thanks to the angels of her life. The first is her beloved brother, Iwan Hutahaeon (and family), and then her dearest sister, Della Hutahaeon (and family) for their praying, support, and motivation. The credit also goes to Hutahaeon's family, for support and praying.

The writer also must express her thanks to the big family of SMP SUTOMO 2 Medan for their support and praying. Big thanks are also expressed to the lecturers and students in the fourth semester of English Literature of Methodist University who had been involved during finishing this thesis.

Her huge thanks are also dedicated to her great family of God: UP-FBS, IKAPEL, CHADASH, EFRAIM, and ABODA for their big supports.

Thank you so much is also addressed to her cousin, Anderee, and others who are too numerous to mention for your helps and supports.

Eventually, the writer expects that this thesis would be useful for further study.
