

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter discusses the conclusion based on the result of study has been described in previous chapter and also suggestions for the teachers, students, and other researcher will research the same cases.

A. Conclusion

The study discussed about the multicultural representation in local publisher English textbook especially Erlangga and Yudhistira textbook. The findings revealed that both of English textbook has already represented the multicultural values as well custom and cloth, such as respect the diversity of culture from different ethnic even other countries, respect the historical story, and respect the different appearance. This result study in accordance with the theory proposed Cortazzi and Jin regarding with the three components must be in consisted in language textbook, they are target culture, source culture and international culture.

The result of study describe that the writer of both English textbooks has tried to depict the diversity of intercultural in the textbook as well visual and non-visual. This phenomena show that writers realized that language and cultural cannot be separated, language has big role to introduce the pluralism and improve the awareness of readers about multicultural. In order to extend the present study, more critical textbook research is needed to analyze moral, meaning, and origin multicultural values whether in same sources or others sources.

B. Suggestion

Regarding with the result of study, the researcher has some suggestion for teachers, students, and other researcher, the followings are:

1. The teachers; hopefully after knowing the result of this study the teachers can be more aware with the explicit and implicit multicultural values provided in English textbook, so the teacher can teach and build the character of students who respect with pluralism.
2. The students; with the multicultural values represented in English textbook the students should be more respected the diversity whether in Indonesia and other countries, and then avoid the discrimination with minority ethnic, hopefully it can be lower the number of ethnic and cultural divisions.
3. For the other researchers; in the future this empirical study hopefully can help and give further information regarding with the multicultural representation in English textbook with multimodal analysis.