

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

All commendation and appreciation are owed to Allah SWT, The Most Gracious and The Most Merciful, for granting her the capacity to proficiently finalize this dissertation. Expression of gratitude is likewise directed towards the esteemed Prophet Muhammad (SAW), whose doctrines have cast light upon the journey from ignorance to knowledge. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the Rector of UNIMED, Prof. Dr. Baharuddin, S. T., M. Pd., and the Dean of the Faculty of Language and Arts, Dr. Zulkifli, M. Sn., along with Dr. Fahri Haswani, S. Pd., M. Hum., the head of the English Applied Linguistics Study Program of the Doctoral Degree, for warmly welcomed me into the program and perpetually offered steadfast moral encouragement. I additionally wish to express my profound appreciation to Prof. Dr. Agussani, M. AP., the Rector of Universitas Muhammadiyah Sumatera Utara, for his extraordinary assistance in facilitating the realization of this endeavor.

With the utmost sincerity, I would like to convey my profound gratitude to my promotor, Prof. Dr. Sri Minda Murni, M. S., as well as to co-promotor, Winda Setiasari, S.S., M. Hum., Ph. D., for their steadfast commitment and assistance throughout the arduous periods encountered in the pursuit of this academic undertaking. The guidance and support provided through their insights and substantial contributions were instrumental in influencing the results of this research initiative. Such profound ideas played a crucial role in the successful completion of this dissertation. Furthermore, it is with profound humility that I convey my deepest appreciation to the distinguished examiners, Prof. Dr. Sumarsih, M. Pd., Prof. Dr. Siti Aisah Ginting, M. Pd., Prof. Amrin Saragih, M. A., Ph. D., and Dr. Tuntun Sinaga, M. Hum., for their essential critiques and recommendations pertaining to this dissertation. I sincerely appreciate the valuable time and profound expertise they have dedicated to offering me their insights and critiques, which have significantly advanced the development of this research. Furthermore, I wish to respectfully recognize and convey my profound gratitude to all the esteemed lecturers of English applied linguistics within the Doctorate Program of the State University of Medan, whose unwavering support and mentorship have played a crucial role in the development of my academic journey, along with the committed staff members who have kindly provided extensive technical assistance and guidance throughout the execution of this complex scholarly undertaking.

I express profound gratitude to my esteemed parents, Endra, S. Pd. I., and Rohaniah, in addition to my parents-in-law, Kumpal Ginting (late) and Dame Sagala, for their unwavering affection, sincere prayers, and steadfast support during my academic pursuits and the arduous endeavor of finalizing this scholarly work. A deeply heartfelt gratitude is primarily extended to my beloved husband, Dr. Pirman Ginting, S. Pd., M. Hum., for his unwavering affection, moral and immoral encouragements, and indispensable technical support during the challenging years of my academic journey. He represents the illuminating beacon that has navigated my path through periods of obscurity, the steadfast foundation upon which I have discovered resilience, and the wellspring of boundless affection that has propelled my endeavors. Along with that, the unwavering faith and optimism imparted to me by my sons, Harith Alfatih Hafig Ginting, Alif Adhyastha Hafig Ginting, and Mahardika Assyauqi Hafig Ginting, have served as the fundamental impetus behind my resilience and have rendered the unattainable achievable. Their existence has consistently provided a wellspring of inspiration, motivation, and joy, thereby facilitating each phase of the journey to be somewhat less arduous and significantly more profound.

An abundance of expressions of gratitude is hereby conveyed to my lovely families, friends affiliated with the Doctoral Program in Applied Linguistics at the State University of Medan, to my colleagues at Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, particularly within the English Language Education Study Program at Universitas Muhammadiyah Sumatera Utara, and anyone whom I am unable to enumerate individually, for their profound empathy, uplifting prayers, and invaluable moral support during periods of adversity and challenges. It is imperative to recognize the profound appreciation I hold for the individuals previously mentioned, as they have bestowed upon me invaluable insights and erudition; however, it is essential to underscore that the responsibility for any errors or omissions contained within this dissertation rests exclusively with me.
